The 3rd APSIC Fellowship Convocation

Ceremony on April 22, 6:30pm~, Coronary Arena

What is the Asian Pacific Society of Interventional Cardiology (APSI)?

Objective

The APSIC aims to promote interventional cardiology, particularly in the field of coronary intervention in the Asian Pacific area. To achieve this goal, all its members and membership countries have actively participated and mutually cooperated in all its scientific and social initiatives.

Vision

Over the past decade, the Society has met its goal in promoting the development of percutaneous vascular intervention in many of its membership countries. Mutual collaborations and technical assistance within the membership nations of the Society and external support from many western nations have helped in the maturation and growth of vascular intervention, especially percutaneous coronary intervention in many membership countries in the Asia Pacific region. Now the APSIC is in a very crucial moment, building up collaborating relationship with international organizations, SCAI-ACCi2, TCT and EuroPCR, and has joint publication with SCAI to have its CCI journal as the official scientific journal of APSIC. We strongly anticipate the Society will soon be realized as one of the global interventional Societies.
